Entertainments

MRS. GUILFOYLE COMPLIMENTS
MRS. E. A. Guilfoyle was the charming hostess at a recently appointed luncheon at the Hotel Gayoso on Thursday, which proved one of the most enjoyable of the series of lovely social affairs given complimentary to two popular visiting matrons, Mrs. W. H. Sanford and Mrs. Harvey Wilson, of Norfolk, Va.

An unusually delicious menu was served to the guests, who were seated in a private dining room at a circular table, which was most artistically decorated, a pink color motif being effectively employed. The floral centerpiece was of roses, sweetpeas and snapdragons, arranged in a large French basket, the handle caught with a graceful butterfly bow of tulle. The places were marked by hand-painted cards in red design and at each place also was a small pink and white basket, the handle adorned with tiny rosebuds and holding salted nuts and bonbons.

Among those who had the pleasure of enjoying Mrs. Guilfoyle's hospitality were: Mrs. Sanford, Wilson, Anne, Annie, Joe, Septime, J. W. Dickson, J. W. Clapp, W. H. Barker, Aubrey Tucker and N. W. Speers.

MRS. JURDEN HONORS
GRAND OPERA ARTISTS
Mrs. Ralph Jurden was the charming hostess at a most enjoyable affair on Friday afternoon when she entertained at tea in special compliment to the principals of the South Grand Opera company.

Mrs. Jurden's attractive home on Willett street was beautifully decorated for the occasion with a profusion of daisies, corn flowers and other field blossoms, giving a delightful atmosphere of country life, which was most refreshing.

Mrs. Jurden, who extended a very gracious welcome to her guests, was charmingly assisted in receiving by Mrs. R. L. Brown, retiring president, and Mrs. W. C. Early, the president-elect of the Renaissance Music circle, Mrs. R. Brinkley Snowden and Mrs. Richmond McKinney.

The guest list was limited to the opera singers and the members of the Renaissance Music circle.
